

SALLY BLUE
Consultant

From the mountains of Guatemala, where she worked with a grass-roots education-based project to the mountains of North Carolina, where she served the Girl Scouts as Interim Executive Director, Sally brings both front-line and management experience in organizational and resource development, volunteer management, and strategic planning.

Sally is a native Texan, growing up in Pearsall and attending Incarnate Word High School in San Antonio. Through her work at Bryn Mawr College in Peace and Conflict Studies and at Emory University earning a Master of Theological Studies, she has honed a talent for uncovering underlying issues and finding patterns in complexity. Sally has also worked with the Girl Scouts-Lone Star Council and most recently at Family Eldercare, both in Austin, Texas. Her work at Dini Partners allows her to use her wide range of education and experience with our clients.
