

DAVID B. JONES
Partner

David began his career in the nonprofit sector as an admissions and development officer for colleges in the northeast United States. David moved to Houston in 1980 to become vice president and then president of the American Productivity and Quality Center before joining Dini Partners in 1988.

In his consulting practice, David has focused on leadership development and capital/endowment campaigns across the entire spectrum of nonprofit organizations.

In his volunteer work, David has served as president of the board of the Houston READ Commission, which is the Houston Mayor's Literacy Coalition, and as a board member with a variety of other nonprofit organizations. He currently serves on the advisory boards of Asia Society Texas and the George Bush Presidential Library Foundation. He is also a member of the President's Roundtable at his alma mater, Rochester Institute of Technology. In 2008 he received a White House appointment to the Cultural Properties Advisory Committee in the U.S. Department of State.

