

RODNEY B. NICHOLSON
IT Manager

With a BBA in Management Information Systems from the University of Houston, Rodney Nicholson brings to Dini Partners an excellent mix of technical experience and a people-oriented personality. His ability to explain technical situations using simple analogies makes it easy for people to understand his approach to technical problem solving.

His professional background includes 15 years experience in the e-commerce consulting sector, beginning as a network administrator and working up to managing the internal help desk staff in several consulting organizations. Rodney is very detail oriented with a desire to accept the daily challenges that he faces in supporting the internal technology infrastructure.

Outside of the office, Rodney enjoys traveling, playing tennis, and spending time with family and friends.
