

HOLLY K. WILLIAMS
Consultant

Holly Williams' professional experience in development serves her well at Dini Partners. Not only is she well-versed in the important operations and best practices of annual fund, direct mail, and donor recruitment and retention programs, she also has strong experience in program evaluation and strategic statistical analysis.

An alumna of Rice University, Holly began her career in the nonprofit sector at her alma mater with a focus on young alumni annual giving. She expanded her experience to include reunion giving and helped lead the youngest reunion class to record-setting achievements. In her professional career, Holly has also gained invaluable experience in corporate and foundation grant writing, membership management, and data manipulation.

Outside of the office, Holly volunteers for Rice University and The Westminster Schools in Atlanta, Georgia. She also serves on the board of the Association of Fundraising Professionals, Greater Houston Chapter.
